Women of Spirit
Award

Women of Spirit Award 2008

With these simple words, each year Lifeline Canberra recognises women of our region as our Women of Spirit. Women who have overcome adversity and given back to the community in an inspiring manner. The award honours a woman who, in overcoming her personal adversity and making positive change in society, inspires others to make a difference in their local community.

Nominations are invited for the 2008 Women of Spirit Award.

- The Women of Spirit Award is open to all residents of the ACT and surrounding areas.
- An individual cannot nominate herself. Nominations must be made on the official form although photocopies of the official form will be accepted.
- The decision of the judges will be final. No correspondence will be entered into in respect of the judging panel's decision. The role of the panel is to receive and consider nominations in the light of the guidelines and to choose the recipient.
- Read this document carefully. Name the person you wish to nominate. Explain her contribution, the background and reasons for your nomination. Include any relevant information. Submissions should be approximately 400 words.
- Nominees need to know that they have been nominated and that information disclosed may be used for promotional purposes during the award luncheon and in publicity after the event
- Nominations close Friday 6th June 2008 and must be submitted to:
Lifeline Canberra
The Women of Spirit Award Panel
PO Box 583 Canberra ACT 2601
- The award will be announced at the Women of Spirit luncheon on Friday 20th June 2008 12.30pm – 2.30pm.
